

$399,555 NOW THE YEAR'S WINNINGS FOR KEENE STABLE

Ballot Adds $1,835 to the Total Today by Coming Home First in Edgemere Stakes at Aqueduct.

Special to The Evening World.
AQUEDUCT RACE TRACK, Nov. 9.—James R. Keene is within striking distance of $400,000 in the matter of turf winnings for the season.

Up-to-date the total was $397,700, but in winning the Edgemere Stakes by a nose in one of the most exciting finishes of the year Ballot added $1,835 as the winner's share to this, figuring up the grand total of $399,555. This puts all world's records in the shade.

Ballot had all he could do to win today. He proved best only after a drive almost the entire length of the stretch with Brookdale Nymph, and as they passed the Judges Ballot was the narrow margin of a nose in front. It was decidedly a close fight.

Brookdale Nymph had led all the way to the stretch, where Ballot hooked up with her. Nealon was never a serious contender. Notter rode Ballot to-day, Miller having the mount on Nealon.

There was little betting on the race, the Keene colt being at the prohibitive price of 3 to 1.

Books Win in First Race.
The books cleaned up in the first race getting a good start for the day. All the money went in on George Ballot.

At the last minute there was quite a play on old Robin Hood. Furlane was the winner, in front of George S. Davis, who was at a long price because an unknown jockey named Hutchinson had the mount. This horse delayed the start by crazy actions at the post, but when he got on he was with the front runners all the way.

Robin Hood was prominent for a while, but stopped badly and finished fourth behind Troublemaker. With a good boy up George S. Davis would have won.

Thistlecliff won the "Chase."

Alameda just romped home in the steeplechase after leading all the way. He was an even money choice. Jimmy Lane looked the contender on paper and was prominent until something happened to him on the backstretch and he was through. But then came on to take the place money. Dulean unseated his rider when he was in the lead, when it looked as if he would beat him home.

Oakdale for Royal Tourist.
The Oakdale Handicap went to H. P. Whitney's Royal Tourist, with Miller up. In this race Miller showed his ability as a rider. He made all the way, looking like an unbeatable horse. On in front he hugged the rail all the way, but at the corner of the stretch turn, he was looking over his shoulder at Bluff and Dorante fighting it out for the place and show money. They finished as usual.

Falcada and Sunbeam performed poorly. Falcada was carried wide and was on the outside all the way. Sunbeam took undue liberties with the wire pair. Every book laid them across the board, when it looked as if they were possible to keep Falcada out of the money.

Books Get a Drubbing.
The books got a awful drubbing in the first race. Drapelle "rolled home." Frank Farrell bet a ton of money on his horse, and after passing the far turn the result was never in doubt. Royal Lady went along with him up to this point but then she ended "up" back out of contention. Quinn Brady was second and Robador coming very strong at the end, beat St. Valentine for the show money.

Eight-year-old James Dantonio, of N. 37 Elizabeth street, while crossing Third street and the Bowery late this afternoon, in company with his brother Antonio, ten years old, was run down and instantly killed by an up-bound third avenue trolley car in charge of Motorman Thomas Dougherty.

The little victim's head was jammed under the trolley's front end. Two men from the station in Great Jones street raised the car by means of a jack and drew forth the mangled little body. Antonio narrowly escaped. He was hysterical with grief over the killing of his brother. The motorman was arrested.

One of the Cartridges Explodes and She Falls Dead in Her Mother's Arms.

While playing with a dozen children in front of her home at No. 134 Sixty-fourth street, Brooklyn, today, six-year-old Jennie Mundi found a rusty 32-calibre revolver. She called to the other children to see what she had found and they pressed about her eagerly.

The little boys were very excited and wanted to take the weapon away from her and play Indians, but she clung to it with all the strength in her pudgy fingers and refused to let it go.

While she was dancing about in the pride and excitement of her find her mother, Angelina Mundi, came out of her home.

"See what I've got," cried the little girl, shaking the revolver at her mother. Then as her mother stepped toward her to examine the rusty pistol the child pressed it to her stomach and unconsciously pulled the trigger.

There were four rusty cartridges in the cylinder and one exploded. The bullet penetrating the little girl's body, her mother's arms were almost on her shoulder as she toppled over, dead, having been killed instantly.

Picking the child up in her arms the mother ran toward the corner and begged Policeman Brennan to send for an ambulance, believing the child was still alive. When Surgeon Norton, of the Norwegian Hospital, told her that the little girl was dead she refused to believe it and carried the body to her home, where her husband, Benson, came in and joined her a few minutes later. Jennie was their only child.

How the revolver came to be in the middle of the road no one in the neighborhood could explain. Its nickelling had corroded with rust.

Miss Chalfant, of Allegheny, Pa., Carried Gems in Bag and Missed Them on Train.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 9.—The police authorities report that a woman who had been valued at $12,000 was lost in New York City when Miss C. Chalfant, of Allegheny, Pa., was lost to the family owning the Spang-Chalfant steel mill of this city and is wealthy.

Miss Chalfant visited New York last week to do some shopping. She wore a chainmail skin bag with a belt under her skirt in which she carried the jewels. The last time she remembered seeing the bag was last Friday, when she left the Waldorf-Astoria for a tailor's establishment on West Twenty-ninth street. She had a number of packages fitted and returned to her room at the hotel where she dressed to take the 3.30 P. M. train for Pittsburgh over the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Miss Chalfant did not discover the package was missing until she was dressed to go to her berth on the train. Among the jewels were a brooch containing a par value of $100 and a diamond-studded necklace. She also carried a diamond-studded bracelet, a diamond earring, a necklace of emeralds and several rings and pins.

When Mrs. Duffy brought her suit she named an address as co-responder and also charged that her husband visited the Hotel Woodstock with a strange woman. Mrs. Duffy says she learned the fact that she is not an actress, and in an affidavit alleged that her husband had offered her $25 a week allowance if she would withdraw the name of the actress from her charges. No testimony was offered against the actress, with whom Duffy was said to be living.

SIX PER CENT. DEBENTURES AUTHORIZED TO BE ISSUED TO-DAY BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE NEW YORK, NEW HAVEN AND HARTFORD RAILROAD COMPANY TO-DAY.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Crown Prince Frederick William gave birth to a son at 9.30 A. M. to-day.

Crown Prince Frederick William, who was born in 1882, was married June 6, 1906, to the Princess Cecilie of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. His first child, Prince William Frederick, was born July 4, 1908.

The Imperial dignity in Germany is hereditary in the House of Hohenzollern and follows the law of primogeniture. Therefore, the child born to-day stands next to his elder brother, Prince William Frederick, in the succession to the throne. He is hereditary with the status as heir to the throne except in the unlikely event of the death of his elder brother.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

INDIANS BEAT HARVARD, 23--15; CORNELL DEFEATS ARMY, 14-10

CHILD PICKS UP RUSTY REVOLVER WHICH KILLS HER

One of the Cartridges Explodes and She Falls Dead in Her Mother's Arms.

While playing with a dozen children in front of her home at No. 134 Sixty-fourth street, Brooklyn, today, six-year-old Jennie Mundi found a rusty 32-calibre revolver. She called to the other children to see what she had found and they pressed about her eagerly.

The little boys were very excited and wanted to take the weapon away from her and play Indians, but she clung to it with all the strength in her pudgy fingers and refused to let it go.

While she was dancing about in the pride and excitement of her find her mother, Angelina Mundi, came out of her home.

"See what I've got," cried the little girl, shaking the revolver at her mother. Then as her mother stepped toward her to examine the rusty pistol the child pressed it to her stomach and unconsciously pulled the trigger.

There were four rusty cartridges in the cylinder and one exploded. The bullet penetrating the little girl's body, her mother's arms were almost on her shoulder as she toppled over, dead, having been killed instantly.

Picking the child up in her arms the mother ran toward the corner and begged Policeman Brennan to send for an ambulance, believing the child was still alive. When Surgeon Norton, of the Norwegian Hospital, told her that the little girl was dead she refused to believe it and carried the body to her home, where her husband, Benson, came in and joined her a few minutes later. Jennie was their only child.

How the revolver came to be in the middle of the road no one in the neighborhood could explain. Its nickelling had corroded with rust.

Miss Chalfant, of Allegheny, Pa., Carried Gems in Bag and Missed Them on Train.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 9.—The police authorities report that a woman who had been valued at $12,000 was lost in New York City when Miss C. Chalfant, of Allegheny, Pa., was lost to the family owning the Spang-Chalfant steel mill of this city and is wealthy.

Miss Chalfant visited New York last week to do some shopping. She wore a chainmail skin bag with a belt under her skirt in which she carried the jewels. The last time she remembered seeing the bag was last Friday, when she left the Waldorf-Astoria for a tailor's establishment on West Twenty-ninth street. She had a number of packages fitted and returned to her room at the hotel where she dressed to take the 3.30 P. M. train for Pittsburgh over the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Miss Chalfant did not discover the package was missing until she was dressed to go to her berth on the train. Among the jewels were a brooch containing a par value of $100 and a diamond-studded necklace. She also carried a diamond-studded bracelet, a diamond earring, a necklace of emeralds and several rings and pins.

When Mrs. Duffy brought her suit she named an address as co-responder and also charged that her husband visited the Hotel Woodstock with a strange woman. Mrs. Duffy says she learned the fact that she is not an actress, and in an affidavit alleged that her husband had offered her $25 a week allowance if she would withdraw the name of the actress from her charges. No testimony was offered against the actress, with whom Duffy was said to be living.

SIX PER CENT. DEBENTURES AUTHORIZED TO BE ISSUED TO-DAY BY THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE NEW YORK, NEW HAVEN AND HARTFORD RAILROAD COMPANY TO-DAY.

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—Crown Prince Frederick William gave birth to a son at 9.30 A. M. to-day.

Crown Prince Frederick William, who was born in 1882, was married June 6, 1906, to the Princess Cecilie of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. His first child, Prince William Frederick, was born July 4, 1908.

The Imperial dignity in Germany is hereditary in the House of Hohenzollern and follows the law of primogeniture. Therefore, the child born to-day stands next to his elder brother, Prince William Frederick, in the succession to the throne. He is hereditary with the status as heir to the throne except in the unlikely event of the death of his elder brother.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The one-time Republican at the crossroads for Roosevelt, the one-time Democrat for Bryan and the politician of either party are against both. This was the epitome of the political situation given by Representative Charles McNamara, of Missouri, who said that the West on Monday morning.

EVENING WORLD RACE CHART SEVENTH DAY AT AQUEDUCT. AUTUMN MEETING.

NOV. 9. CLEAR. TRACK SLOW

1200 FIRST RACE—Selling; three-year-olds and upward; $700 added; six and a half furlongs.

Start fair. Won driving. Winner, ch. c. by Watercross-Flavans. Time—1:21.1/2. At post, 2:14 off 2:18. Owner—J. E. Seagram.

Index. Starts. Wts. St. 4 1/4 1/2 Fin. Jockeys. Open High Clos. Pl. Sh.

1185 Puritan 108 9 1 1 1/2 1/2 Sumner 7.2 9.2 6.2 2 1/2

1184 George S. Davis 105 8 1 1 1/2 1/2 Hutchinson 20 23 20 4 1/2

1178 Troublemaker 110 6 1 1 1/2 1/2 McDaniel 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1176 Robin Hood 114 8 1 1 1/2 1/2 McDaniel 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1175 Star Zed 110 1 1 1 1/2 1/2 Miller 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1172 Rockstone 110 1 1 1 1/2 1/2 Musgrave 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1168 Frank Lord 115 2 10 10 7 1/2 Callahan 20 100 20 10

1166 Workman 114 2 10 10 7 1/2 Callahan 20 100 20 10

1164 Park Bow 108 10 9 9 1 1/2 Callahan 20 100 20 10

1162 L'Amour 100 12 12 12 11 1/2 Bergen 50 50 50 20 10

1158 Bowling Bridge 110 12 12 12 11 1/2 Bergen 50 50 50 20 10

1156 Crawford 110 12 12 12 11 1/2 Bergen 50 50 50 20 10

1154 Easton 106 4 7 7 1 1/2 O'Swain 50 100 15 6 4

1152 Puritan 108 9 1 1 1/2 1/2 Sumner 7.2 9.2 6.2 2 1/2

1150 George S. Davis 105 8 1 1 1/2 1/2 Hutchinson 20 23 20 4 1/2

1148 Troublemaker 110 6 1 1 1/2 1/2 McDaniel 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1146 Robin Hood 114 8 1 1 1/2 1/2 McDaniel 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1144 Star Zed 110 1 1 1 1/2 1/2 Miller 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1142 Rockstone 110 1 1 1 1/2 1/2 Musgrave 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1140 Frank Lord 115 2 10 10 7 1/2 Callahan 20 100 20 10

1138 Workman 114 2 10 10 7 1/2 Callahan 20 100 20 10

1136 Park Bow 108 10 9 9 1 1/2 Callahan 20 100 20 10

1134 L'Amour 100 12 12 12 11 1/2 Bergen 50 50 50 20 10

1132 Bowling Bridge 110 12 12 12 11 1/2 Bergen 50 50 50 20 10

1130 Crawford 110 12 12 12 11 1/2 Bergen 50 50 50 20 10

1128 Easton 106 4 7 7 1 1/2 O'Swain 50 100 15 6 4

1126 Puritan 108 9 1 1 1/2 1/2 Sumner 7.2 9.2 6.2 2 1/2

1124 George S. Davis 105 8 1 1 1/2 1/2 Hutchinson 20 23 20 4 1/2

1122 Troublemaker 110 6 1 1 1/2 1/2 McDaniel 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

1120 Robin Hood 114 8 1 1 1/2 1/2 McDaniel 4 1 1 1/2 1/2

20 INJURED IN COLLISION ON THIRD AVE. "L"

Many Women Cut and Bruised in a Rear End Collision at Pelham Ave. Station.

More than twenty persons were injured in a rear-end collision on the Third Avenue "L" road at the Pelham Avenue station, in the Bronx, this afternoon. Mrs. Bertha Cohen, of No. 540 East Fifth street, and Mrs. Margaret Dunworth, of No. 400 Douglass street, Brooklyn, were sent to Fordham Hospital from the wreck, suffering from severe hurts. Half a dozen women were painfully cut by broken glass.

A northbound train was just pulling out of the station when a train following crashed into it. The latter train was in control of Motor Engineer J. H. Kelly. He put on the brakes in time, but on account of a down grade and slippery tracks the wheels slid.

Most of the persons injured were in the rear car of the first train, which was badly smashed. Nearly all the windows were broken. Windows were also broken in the forward car of the second train, and some of the passengers were cut by the glass. Kelly escaped injury.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Policeman Miller sent calls to Lehigh and Fordham hospitals and three ambulances responded. A block of half an hour on the Third Avenue line above the Bronx resulted from the collision.

Mount Pleasant Tallies a Touchdown Against Crimmon by Brilliant Run of 75 Yards Down the Field.

ITHACANS GIVE CADETS HARD FIGHT YARD BY YARD

Open Game on West Point Field, with Ball in the Air Most of the Time and Little Made on New Tricks of Football.

FOOTBALL RESULTS TO-DAY.

At Princeton-Brimmon, 10; At West Point-Cornell, 10; At Cambridge-Indiana, 22; At Yale-Harvard, 23-15; At Philadelphia-U. of P., 20; At Annapolis-Swarthmore, 18; At New Haven-Yale Freshmen, 23; Princeton, 6.

(Special to The Evening World.)

HARVARD STADIUM, CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 9.—Carlisle beat Harvard most decisively this afternoon. The score was 23 to 15.

The Indians were never in danger. It was an open and exciting game. The field was dry and favored the swift work of the red men. Their long forward passes fooled Harvard completely. Princeton's lesson was lost on the Crimson coaches.

At the end of the first half the Indians led, score 12 to 10. It was plain that Harvard could make no progress through the Carlisle line by any of the old methods of play. In the second half the Indians batted the ball all over the gridiron and held Harvard practically helpless.

Harvard and the Indians had their seventh meeting on the gridiron today. Carlisle brought a fine collection of sturdy athletes, nearly all veterans with a system of play, backed by the well-known kicking ability of Mount Pleasant, the quarter-back. It was believed that the Indians would prove a stubborn foe for the Crimson eleven.

It was admitted, however, that some of the visitors had suffered in the game with Princeton last week, and were not in such good condition as when they had the University of Pennsylvania.

Two weeks ago.

The weather conditions were nearly ideal and the Indians were much pleased at the anticipation of firmer footing on dry turf than that with which they had to contend in New York last week.

Scarcely any wind was blowing, so there was little advantage to either side so far as kicking was concerned.

The Game.

The Indians won the toss and chose the west goal, with the sun and wind behind them. Burr kicked to the Indians' three-yard line, and after the ball was run back 17 yards a fumble gave to Harvard on the 33-yard line.

Another fumble gave the Indians the ball on the 33-yard line.

A muffed kick gave the Indians the ball on their fifty-yard line. The Indians carried the ball into Harvard's territory, and their forward pass, although muffed, gave them the ball on Harvard's twenty-five-yard line.

Another forward pass sent the ball to the thirty-yard line, and on a rush to Carlisle placed it over the line for a touchdown. Mount Pleasant kicked the goal. The playing time was seven minutes. Score: Carlisle, 6; Harvard, 0.

After play resumed Carlisle made two brilliant runs, but was penalized and forced to kick to Harvard's 40-yard line. The Crimson team tried the center with only slight gain and then kicked into Carlisle's territory again.

After the Indians had kicked to the center of the field and Harvard had rushed it back ten yards, a Harvard kick sent the ball to the Indians' 33-yard line, where it was fumbled and a Crimson touchdown resulted on the next play, a kick following, and the score was tied. Parker kicked the goal. Score: Carlisle, 6; Harvard, 6.

The next ten minutes were occupied with brilliant plays by the Indians, and another of their forward passes placed the ball on Harvard's 30-yard line.

Forward Passes Fool Harvard.

The Indians attempted a goal from the field from the 40-yard line, but failed. A few minutes later they rushed Burr's punt back to Harvard's 33-yard line, and made fifteen yards more on a delayed pass.

Another forward pass sent the ball to Harvard's 63-yard line. The Crimson team was fooled on another forward pass and the second Indian touchdown resulted. A goal was kicked. Score: Carlisle, 12; Harvard, 6.

Harvard attempted a forward pass which was muffed, and the Indians got the ball on their 53-yard line. Harvard caught the Carlisle kick on the 33-yard line, where a fumble gave the Indians the ball on the 33-yard line.